

Diploma in Integrative Counselling -
A Christian Perspective

2025-2027

Introduction

This Integrative Diploma in Counselling has been delivered for the past 25 years, and one of the unique features of this course is the inclusion of a Christian Perspective as part of the core theoretical model.

This Diploma is fully validated by COSCA, the National Accrediting Body for Counselling in Scotland. The course is delivered face-to-face and is supported by additional material on our online learning platform. This unique approach is approved by COSCA. Students will interact with, and have full support from, their tutors throughout the course.

The face-to-face elements of the Diploma 2025–2027 will be facilitated and taught by the Course Director (Scotland) Lynn Millar alongside the Course Director (Ireland) Laura Wylie and a team of qualified, experienced tutors. Some of the lectures on our online learning platform are taught by Andrea Wigglesworth and Vicky McEvoy, who previously taught the course.

Meet the Team

Lynn Millar (Course Director) has been counselling since 2010 and has been Director of Counselling in the Wellness Centre, St Mungo's church, in Balerno overseeing a team of more than 50 counsellors and supervisors since 2016. She has an MSc in Counselling Studies and Post Graduate Certificates in Supervision, Working with Children and Working with Couples. She is an accredited Counsellor with BACP and COSCA. A qualified teacher and an accredited COSCA Trainer, Lynn has been involved in training counsellors and delivering a wide range of CPD events in Edinburgh and further afield for several years. She was a core tutor on the Diploma for 4 years before becoming Course Director in 2023.

Laura Wylie is CEO of Links Counselling Service where she has built up a thriving community counselling service which has 8 centres across Northern Ireland and a team of counsellors working in over 30 schools across the country. Laura trained as a counsellor in 2009 and has added to her experience throughout the years, obtaining an Advanced Diploma in Person Centred Counselling at Queens University Belfast, Advanced Diploma in Supervision, Diploma in working therapeutically with children and young people and a Diploma in Cognitive Behavioural Therapy. Laura has also completed a Masters in Pluralistic Psychotherapy where she is developing research around the impact of Single Session Therapy. Laura is a BACP accredited counsellor and supervisor.

Andrea Wigglesworth has extensive experience in training counsellors. Andrea has a MSc in Health Promotion and a MSc in Counselling Studies (Advanced Practice), a postgraduate Diploma in Counselling/ Post Graduate Diploma in Counselling Supervision. She is a trained teacher and an accredited COSCA Trainer. Andrea has a special interest in Positive Psychology and is passionate about emotional and spiritual health in relationships.

Vicky McEvoy is a counsellor and supervisor accredited by the Irish Association of Counselling and Psychotherapy (IACP) She has an MA Cross Professional Supervisory Practice, a BTh Applied Theology, a Diploma in Counselling, and HDip in Adult and Community Education, Vicky is also a COSCA Trainer, an Imago Couples Therapist and a Life Plan Facilitator. She has a special interest in teaching Reality Therapy (Glasser) and its application into generic counselling.

The Diploma Programme

This programme offers training in an integrative approach to counselling, embracing the concepts of Person-Centred Counselling, Psychodynamic Counselling, Cognitive Behavioural Therapy and Existential Psychotherapy from a Christian perspective. Students are encouraged to grow together in a learning community that is supportive and mutually inspiring. The course material is delivered through face-to-face teaching, personal reflection, small and large group discussion and skills practice. We also have an online platform to support learning between the face-to-face sessions. Students are encouraged to read, study, practise and process the material that is presented.

Award

Learners exit the programme with a COSCA-recognised Diploma in Integrative Counselling, with a Christian Perspective. Students living in the UK can be accredited by the BACP and COSCA (in Scotland). The course has 400 hours of Class/Tutor Contact, 100 hours of client work in a suitable centre, with a ratio of Supervision 1:6.

Following completion of the Diploma, students have the option of undertaking further study to obtain a BA (Hons) in Counselling, validated by Middlesex University, in Waverley Abbey, Surrey or Level 8 BSc (Hons) in Counselling and Psychotherapy through PCI College in Dublin and Belfast or IICP in Dublin. Those with a primary degree can be admitted to the master's programmes in these colleges.

Who should apply

This programme is designed for people who wish to become professional therapists or for those who may use counselling skills as part of their work, either in a paid or voluntary capacity. It is of special interest to those who work within the caring professions, community settings or in pastoral care.

Entry Requirements

Applicants are required to complete an application form, undergo an Interview with two core tutors and supply two references. Selection procedures will apply, and prospective students must be able to:

- Articulate their interest in the therapeutic field and their reasons for pursuing this course of study both on their application form and in the interview process
- Produce evidence of prior educational attainment (see application form for further details) and ability to engage in the written assignments. A Certificate in Counselling (or equivalent) is a pre-requisite
- Show evidence of emotional maturity and self-awareness

Applications are welcomed from November 2024

A non-refundable application fee of £50.00 is required to process course applications. Upon receipt of a completed online application, students will be invited to attend an interview to demonstrate suitability for the course. Two references are also required.

There is usually a high demand for the Diploma Programme in Edinburgh so early application is always advisable. (From November 2024). Interviews will be held between December 2024 and April 2025.

Feedback from previous students

Here is a snapshot of what a few of our past students have to say about the course:

“This course has been transformational. I have learned so much and so enjoyed the journey.”

“Great teaching, great learning experience.”

“I am now working in private practice as a counsellor and am delighted that I was able to retrain and do a job I love.”

I completed this course and then in one year completed the BSc Hons programme and am now working in private practice. It was fantastic to do the first 2 years of the degree through a Christian worldview.”

“This course has truly changed the direction of my life. After completing it I went on to do further training in counselling children and in supervision and have gained paid employment as a counsellor in various settings including schools.”

Course Overview

The course programme is highly interactive and is taught through role-play, live teaching sessions, group work and video presentations. An online discussion forum promotes continued connections and deeper learning. The ethos of the course promotes a warm, safe environment that is free from fear, criticism and coercion. Participants will have the opportunity to produce and participate in individual written assignments, group projects and group work.

Course Aims

- To introduce participants to a practical approach to counselling
- To encourage psychological wellbeing within the programme and empower and encourage support networks
- To provide a warm and challenging environment where students can learn and grow as individuals and in community
- To encourage students to view this course in the context of lifelong learning as professional development and personal growth

Course Objectives

At the end of the course, students will be able to:

- Describe the theories underpinning counselling and psychotherapeutic practice – Person-Centred Therapy and Psychodynamic approaches, as well as an understanding of the basic principle of Cognitive Behavioural Therapy. Exploration of a Christian perspective as well as looking at humanistic counselling theories is a unique feature of this course and makes it particularly attractive to those who work within the culture and context of the church

- Identify ethical considerations and implications for practice
- Recognise the importance of equality, diversity and inclusive practice
- Work effectively with suitable clients
- Display competence in the core skills of counselling and psychotherapy
- Identify issues of risk with clients
- Apply counselling and psychotherapeutic skills in practice, under supervision
- Exercise appropriate clinical judgement in planning, provision and evaluation of integrative therapy
- Be Reflexive – reflecting on their work and applying their insights to their practice
- Identify blind spots and professional development needs and be able to self-reflect and to give and receive feedback
- Reflect critically within a therapeutic context, recognising limits of knowledge, skills and competence and considering self in the therapeutic process

Assessment

We use continuous assessment with feedback from tutors for written work and counselling practice, as well as opportunities for self and peer feedback for group projects and triad work.
